

Course Title: Legal Issues in Education: A Free and Appropriate Education

Instructors: Donna Walker Tileston, Rosemary Planz,

Length: 10 hours

Dates: Rolling admissions

Prerequisites: Bachelor Degree

Number of credits: 1

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course provides an overview of the history and impact of current legislation and policies that affect the education of students with special needs. The presenters review the federal and state laws that govern special education: The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, Section 504; the Americans with Disabilities Act, Titles One, Two, Three, Four, and Five; and the No Child Left Behind Act. They discuss the provisions of each of these acts in detail, with a focus on how they effect the education of children with special needs, including the notion of a “Free and Appropriate Education” and the ideas of Least Restrictive and More Restrictive Environments as these apply to the types of special education services schools are required to provide. Practical classroom suggestions and materials are provided along with effective strategies to promote an inclusive environment in any classroom setting. Finally, suggestions are offered for what schools can do to implement special education programs that meet the standards set down in federal and state laws.

Objectives:

1. Knowledge –at the end of this course, the student will be able to understand
 - a. provisions of important state and federal laws related to special education,
 - b. ideas of least restrictive and more restrictive environments for special education students, and
 - c. adaptations and modifications to promote inclusion of students with higher-incidence and lower-incidence disabilities;
2. Skills –after this course, a student will be able to
 - a. develop improvement plans focused on improving student performance in the classroom,
 - b. align lessons to standards and benchmarks, and
 - c. identify the disability categories served under IDEA.
3. Dispositions – after this course, a student will be able to appreciate
 - a. the continuum of services available to students with special needs and the “least restrictive environment” concept,

- b. the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001, which affects all children and has important implications for children with disabilities, and
- c. federal laws protecting the educational services for students with disabilities such as Section 504, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

Speaker Overview:

Donna Walker Tileston is the author of eighteen books published by Corwin Press. Her series of ten books, What Every Teacher Should Know, won the distinguished National Publishers Award in 2005. That series, as well as her book, Ten Best Teaching Practices, have been on Corwin’s best-seller list since they were introduced. As a teacher and administrator, Donna first used her research on the brain and learning to restructure a “failing school” and to help lead it to win statewide acclaim for high test scores and a low drop-out rate. That experience led to her first book and much of her work on helping struggling students. Donna is an international speaker who has delivered more than 600 workshops on a variety of topics including differentiation, diversity, technology, and brain research. She resides in Dallas, Texas where she writes full time and works with schools throughout the world to help all kids to be successful.

Rosemary Planz is currently retired from the Hicksville Public Schools, Long Island, NY where she was the Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction. Her experience includes teaching and supervising Special Education programs as well as teaching college courses for teachers to utilize a variety of strategies in the inclusive classroom.

Grading:

Grading requirements include a Lesson Plan and a Guided Reflection Activity.

Due dates of major assignments, projects, and examinations:

Online, self-running programs can be started and completed at participants' own leisure within two months from the day they begin the course.

FINAL EXAM PROJECT: Develop a detailed Lesson Plan and Reflection Guide that includes modifications and/or accommodations for students with special needs. Include the following:

1. Select a standard of learning objective from a specific content area.
2. Develop one or more activities that you will use to differentiate curriculum for specific learning disabilities.
3. Create one or more cooperative learning activities that can be used to address the standard or learning objective.
4. Incorporate activities that allow for students to perform tasks successfully in a mixed-ability classroom
5. Describe one or more assessment measures that you will use to check for understanding. Create a rubric to provide a common framework of stated lesson objectives and student understanding.

What specific modifications or accommodations did you include for students with special needs? Incorporate anecdotal evidence and data to indicate that your lesson plan was successful or may need revision for future lessons. Discuss your experience in implementation of this lesson plan and the possible pros and cons of adapting the lesson for future classroom use. Make specific reference to policies, legislation and guidelines that inform your lesson plan development.

*A KDS Lesson Plan and Reflection Guide are attached and should be followed to provide a comprehensive assessment of course objectives. However, if you are unable to implement your Lesson Plan and Guided Reflection in an actual classroom, please project what anticipated outcomes would be.
